NOT A SICK DAY
For Over Thirty Years!
RESULT OF USING
AYER'S PILLS

"Ayer's Cathartic Pills for over thirty years have kept me in good health, never having had a sick day in all that time. Before I was twenty I suffered almost continually—as a result of constipation—from dyspepsia, headaches, neuralgia, or boils and other eruptive diseases. When I became convinced that nine-tenths of my troubles were caused by constipation, I began the use of Ayer's Pills, with the most satisfactory results, never having a single attack that did not readily yield to this remedy. My wife, who had been an invalid for years, also began to use Ayer's Pills, and her health was quickly restored. With my children I had noticed that nearly all their ailments were preceded by constipation, and I soon had the pleasure of knowing that with children as with parents, Ayer's Pills, if taken in season, avert all danger of sickness."—H. WETTSTEIN, Byron, Ill.

THE GIANTS OF OLD.

PREVIOUS AGES SUPPLY US WITH ENORMOUS FOSSIL BONES.

Lizards Three Times the Size of the Largest Elephant and a Turtle Whose Shell Looked Like a Hut—Marine Giants and the Remarkable Plated Lizard.

The belief in a race of giants was once almost universal and held until recent years. Even today large skeletons when found are sometimes reported as being those of giant human beings. This was especially true of the period about the tenth and eleventh centuries, and in the latter a most amazing discovery was reported, which threw the scientific world of the time into great excitement. It was said that the body of Pallas, the son of Evander, had been discovered beneath the tomb of the emperor Henry III. The bones were enormous, and it is unnecessary to state, proved to have belonged to a huge fossil elephant. As late as the fifteenth century a war of words was waged over a find of large bones, one party claiming that they belonged to the giant Teutobochus. In 1857 a giant was discovered in Switzerland. The council of Lucerne requested a learned scientific man, Professor Felix Plater of Basel, to report upon it, and he not only announced the bones as part of a human giant, but made a complete restoration, showing the man 20 feet high, which the proud city adopted as an ancestor in the arms of the commonwealth. The design and some of the bones can still be seen in the college of Jesuits at Lucerne. Unfortunately for the theory and much to the discomfiture of the people who had raised to a high pinnacle this mighty ancestor, it was found to be the remains of an elephant.

Giants other than human are very common in all branches of the animal kingdom—giants in every sense when compared to their pygmy representatives of today. Some years ago some laborers in the Sewalik hills of India were engaged upon a government work when they came upon the remains of a turtle that proved beyond question that these animals had their giants in the days of old. The shell which the men exposed might have been used as a shelter for several men, and at first, before its bony nature was observed, it was thought by the natives to be a hut of some kind. Fortunately the bones were uninjured, and they were taken out and removed to the British museum, where a complete restoration of the animal may be seen. The length of the turtle was 10 feet, its horizontal circumference 25 feet, and its girth 15 feet, but it was estimated by scientists that this was not an adult, and that when fully grown this huge creature would display a domelike back 8 or 9 feet high, giving a total length of 20 feet.

One of the common animals in equatorial South America and in Central America is the lizard, iguana, which attains a length of 4 or 5 feet and is considered a large lizard, but it was a pygmy when compared to an ancestor that once wandered over England and various portions of the world. A number of years ago some workingmen were excavating and blasting in a quarry near Maidstone, England, when some bones were uncovered that caused profound astonishment on the part of the finders. The skeleton was perfect, and as it was lifted out, bone by bone, their amazement increased, and the news was spread all over the country, attracting large numbers of people. When the bones were placed in their proper position, they were found to be the skeleton of a gigantic lizard that when alive must have been three times as bulky as the largest living elephant and stood upon its hind legs like a kangaroo, tearing down branches from the highest trees. Such an animal was a slow mover and sluggish and must have fallen an easy prey to the human hunters, if they existed.

The marine giants were even more bizarre and remarkable than the land forms. If we can imagine the little iguana lengthened out to 30 feet, its back spines changed to broad finlike objects, we form some idea of the appearance of one of the small dinosaurs, Stegosaurus ungulatus, one of the most uncanny and remarkable creatures ever found. It is called the plated lizard, and the best skeleton was found on the eastern flank of the Rocky Mountains. Some of the plates with which this armored lizard were protected were two or three feet in diameter and the spines over two feet in length. From the fact that the hind limbs were the largest, it is evident that this strange creature could lift itself up and sit like a kangaroo, resting upon its powerful tail, which, with its enormous spines, must have been a terrible weapon.

A giant from America had a skull that measured eight feet in length. Almost over the eyes were two large horns, a third placed over the nose. The great length of the skull was given by a huge crest that was protected by a ridge of long plates. The mouth of the triceratops was protected by a horny beak. In life it must have presented a formidable appearance, with a body clumsy and low like that of a hippopotamus, a long tail like an alligator's, its head calling to mind the rhinoceros. This monster was 25 feet in length and must have been one of the strangest animals of its time.—Philadelphia Press.

Sitting Up Late.

There is nothing so tends to shorten the lives of old people and to injure their health as the practice of sitting up late, particularly in the winter evenings. This is especially the case when there is a grown up daughter in the family. We publish this item at the earnest request of several young men.—London Tit-Bits.

DR. SHRADY ON VENTILATION.

Some Venerable Theories on This Subject That Have Been Exploded.

The effect of expired air upon animal life is the subject of an interesting article in The Medical Record by Dr. George F. Shrady, its editor. "We need not," says Dr. Shrady, "emphasize the evil effects of what is usually called bad ventilation. It is perhaps true that acute diseases are not to be traced to the same, but it may be safely stated that there is a distinct deterioration of vital forces in those who are constantly subjected to the impure atmosphere of badly ventilated rooms. The cause of the sickening sensation which comes over us upon entering an atmosphere contaminated with many breaths or of the gradual deterioration of the vital forces which follows confinement in such an atmosphere is not known. For a number of years prior to 1888 the view prevailed that the discomfort and danger to health and life in badly ventilated rooms were largely due to organic matters contained in the air expired, and that the increase in carbonic acid due to respiration has but little effect in producing the bad results. Recently, however, several experimenters have concluded that the organic matters in the exhaled breath are not harmful, at least to animals."

Referring to recent experiments on the subject, Dr. Shrady says: "The results justify the conclusion that the discomfort felt in crowded, ill ventilated rooms is not due to excessive carbonic acid or to bacteria or in most cases to dusts of any kind, but is in reality due to excessive temperature and unpleasant odors. Nothing in these experiments shows the cause of the unpleasant, musty odor of an unventilated room, and attention is called to the curious fact that cases of fainting in crowded rooms usually occur in women and are connected, the authors think, with defective respiratory action due to tight lacing. Finally these investigations, the authors declare, go to prove that some of the theories upon which modern systems of ventilation are based are either without foundation or doubtful, and that the problem of securing comfort and health in inhabited rooms requires the consideration of the best methods of preventing or disposing of dust of various kinds, of regulating temperature and moisture and of carrying off poisonous gases derived from heating and lighting apparatus rather than of simply diluting the air to a certain standard of proportion of carbonic acid present."

Got Their Licenses.

There is an ancient law in Rhode Island, which, however, is almost forgotten, requiring clergymen to take out a license before officiating at marriages. The other day Father O'Hare and Mr. Stewart, the Episcopal rector of Auburn, went to the town clerk for this license. At first the town clerk was much puzzled what to do, as he had no proper license blanks, but he finally got over the difficulty, and the clergymen departed. After they had got on a street car they opened their licenses, and each was horrified to find himself in the possession of a full fledged second class liquor license, with power to run a liquor shop subject to all the privileges and penalties of the law. A closer inspection of the license, however, showed that the words "second class liquor license," giving power to sell "malt, spirituous and intoxicating liquors" at retail or wholesale, had had a line drawn through them, and instead of the words "to sell malt, spirituous and intoxicating liquors" were interlined the words "to perform marriages," and so forth.

Each clergyman made a wry face as he contemplated his battered license, and each silently vowed to exhibit it only in case of dire peril of a $20 fine. But both blessed the ingenuity of the official that could transform a document which portends so much evil for the race, according to their views, into an instrument with power to give such happiness.—New York Tribune.

Playing at Being Born.

The strange sayings of children would fill a volume—for the matter of that, have filled one, I believe—while, as for the situations they adopt in their play, they are imitated from the life dramas of their elders with that reckless disregard for consistency and development that often distinguishes the dramatist. A friend of mine who had been Christmasing in the country told me of a very funny example of this trait in "our little ones." A large party of children were sent up to the schoolroom one afternoon to amuse themselves, and after a time two ladies made an excursion from the drawing room to see how they were getting on. The youngsters were "play acting," and the scene in which they were engaged was that of a fashionable wedding. Away from the group of performers stood in a corner a tiny girl of about 3. Thinking the child had been banished as too young to join in the game, one of the ladies went up to condole with her and ask the reason of her solitude. "Oh, hush!" said the tiny mite, who could scarcely speak plainly. "I'ze the baby, 'ou know, and I'ze waitin to be born'd."—London Sketch.

Capital Punishment In Calabar.

The famous Calabar bean is said to be worse than strychnine. The natives use it for an ordeal. If a person is accused of a crime, he is made to eat one, being adjudged to be guilty in case of death, which is almost inevitable. Another seed employed for a like purpose is that of the ordeal tree of Madagascar, said to be the most deadly of vegetable products. One of these seeds about the size of an almond will kill 20 men.

Forever from the hand that takes one blessing from us others fall, and soon or late our Father makes his perfect recompense to all.—Whittier.

INDEX-TRIBUNE

SONOMA, APRIL 18, 1896.

H. H. GRANICE - - - - - - - - - - - - EDITOR.

WELCOME, TEACHERS!

The INDEX-TRIBUNE is glad of this opportunity to welcome the teachers of Sonoma county to Old Sonoma. It was here that the forces of civilization were first felt—forces whose circle of influence has widened as the years have advanced. This being so, it is well that those who stand for the best in our civilization should gather together and from the standpoint of learning view the changes and needs that fifty years have wrought. Though we as a county are proud of our teachers and feel that the welfare of our youth is in safe keeping we must not blind ourselves to the fact that in no profession is there such growth and change as the teachers', and that to keep abreast of the spirit of the age requires the constant effort of the parent as well as the teacher.

We look upon this Institute as a happy omen, presaging much for the beautiful Sonoma Valley. It will enable our citizens to come under the immediate influence of new ideas and put them in sympathy with the aims of education. Let us, therefore, in the spirit of true hospitality endeavor to make the sojourn of our guests one long to be remembered, and by availing ourselves of the opportunity prepare for a more intelligent exercise of our duties as parent, as trustee, as citizen. All success to Sonoma's Institute!

THE New York World has said that McKinley is the man for the Republicans to nominate, and, in consequence, has declared its intention of doing all in its power to help him get the nomination.

COUNTY NEWS ITEMS.

GLEANED DURING THE PAST WEEK.

The seventh annual convention of the Sonoma association of the eight Congregational churches of the county was in session at Cloverdale last Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday.

County Clerk Fulton has received a letter from Howard Vernon of the Pacific Kennel Club inquiring for the names of Sonoma county men having registered dogs. They are requested to report to Mr. Vernon.

The Supreme Court has affirmed the decision of Judge Dougherty in the case of the Santa Rosa Street Railway vs. the Central Street Railway. Judge Dougherty's decision was in favor of the defendants in the case.

Dr. Ward of Healdsburg was fined $50 in the Superior Court Wednesday for practicing without a license. He claimed that his license had simply not been recorded, but the court held that the above fine was in order nevertheless.

Drs. Ivancovich and Gossage, assisted by Dr. Bruce Cockrill of Bloomfield, and D. T. Ruffin of Petaluma, performed an operation on Frank Caspari, a dairyman, who resides up the coast near the Lawrence ranch. He was nearly dead, having been seriously ill with intestinal obstruction since last Thursday. He rallied splendidly from the operation, but it is not thought that he can survive.—Petaluma Courier.

Hy Groshong has been appointed a policeman of Santa Rosa.

The jury in the case of the People vs. John Bryan, charged with burglary at Petaluma, returned a verdict of burglary in the first degree Wednesday morning. Bryan was ordered to come up for sentence on April 20th. Attorney Ross Campbell made a motion for a new trial. While the jury was out in the former case another one was being secured for the trial of Joseph Bryan, brother of the defendant in the first case, who is also charged with burglary at the same time and place. The jury impaneled was composed of John R. Mailer, John Baylor, W. Stahl, F. Leppo, J. M. Godman, J. S. Brooks, W. H. Royal, George Nichols, A. Bryant, W. H. Brown, I. B. Charles and J. O'Connor.

Will They Hold Two Years or Four.

The initial step to determine whether the county and township officers elected at the last general election are to hold office for four years or two years was taken the other day in Solano county. A test case will be tried before Judge Buckles of that county, and an appeal will then be taken to the Superior Court. It is the general impression among lawyers that the County Government Act, under which the present officials claim to hold for four years, is unconstitutional.

Deafness Cannot be Cured

by local applications as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflamation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars; free.

LOCAL HAPPENINGS.

Teachers' Institute.

All the arrangements for the entertainment of the teachers, who will arrive next Monday, have been practically settled. The accommodations, both for board and lodging, are believed to be ample. The Committee on Accommodations has been busily at work for the past two weeks, and has succeeded in securing all the rooms and board that will be required. To avoid the crush at the hotels during the lunch hour the ladies of the Congregational Church have made arrangements to provide a hot lunch each day during the Institute week at the Congregational Church. This arrangement was made at the request of the Executive Committee, and for the purpose stated. All the other arrangements are fully settled. The other committees are now at work on their several duties. The Executive Committee calls upon all persons to lend their assistance whenever needed to make the Institute a complete success. All persons having vehicles are requested to have them ready at the Donahue and El Verano depots on Monday morning to assist the committee in transporting the teachers to Sonoma and to their several rooms about the valley.

Vagaries of the Weather.

The weather the past week has been very varied, if not phenomenal. There has been sunshine and balmy breezes, interspersed with rain, hail and frost. Thursday with the temperature at over 60 degrees there were showers of rain and a hail storm, which was of short duration, however. The hailstones were remarkably large, being almost the size of buckshot. There was also a heavy frost on Wednesday and Thursday mornings, which covered the sidewalks and house tops a pure white. Many vineyards in the valley are reported to have suffered, while others escaped unscathed. Fruit, particularly cherries and peaches, have also been injured. Owing to the unfavorable weather the past month, to use the language of one of our prominent fruit growers and vineyardists, fruit and wine are going to be fruit and wine this year.

His Sworn Statement.

City Clerk-elect Breitenbach has filed with J. E. Poppe, President of the Board of City Trustees, a sworn statement of his election expenses. Only two items are enumerated, to wit: Paid to H. H. Granice, for printing, $1; paid to L. Breitenbach, for conveying electors to polls, $5. The Judge also makes affidavit before Judge Cheney that in no manner, shape or form has he offered any reward, office or employment to any one for supporting him in the recent contest.

Justice Cheney's Court.

In the civil suit of Brown vs. McCreal, judgment has been given plaintiff by default. The suit was brought to recover the sum of $61.50 on a promissory note and merchandise sold and delivered. The parties to the suit are both residents of Kenwood.

The suit instituted by Louis Pierce against Mrs. Denehey, to recover the sum of $69.50 wages alleged to be due plaintiff for work ing on defendants ranch, was compromised Thursday, Mrs. Denehey paying Pierce $40 in satisfaction of all claims.

THE CITY ELECTION.

JUDGE BREITENBACH'S HEAVY VOTE—ELECTED CLERK ALMOST UNANIMOUSLY.

Hartin, Seipp and Modini Elected Trustees—Cornelius for Treasurer and Robin for Marshal.

The election for municipal officers last Monday, brought out every available voter, most of whom voted early in the day. One hundred and thirty-nine votes were cast. Of these nineteen were rejected owing to the carelessness or ignorance of those who voted them in failing to properly stamp them.

For City Clerk there were two candidates in the field, to-wit: Judge Breitenbach and Henry Lutgens. The contest between the two resulted in the Judge being re-elected by 86 majority. The handsome vote he received was an endorsement of an honest and capable official.

In the contest for Trustee for the long term Messrs. Hartin, Seipp, Schocken and Castagnasso tried conclusions, the two former being elected.

For Trustee for the short term L. Modini defeated Fred'k T. Duhring by 16 votes.

Geo. H. H. Cornelius for Treasurer had no opposition and he received 109 votes, the exact number polled for Judge Breitenbach.

For City Marshal there were five contestants as follows: G. M. Perry, J. E. Robin, Chas. Ruffner, G. W. Sparks and J. A. Stockwell. The contest was very close between Messrs. Stockwell and Robin, the latter winning by nine plurality.

The election, although stubbornly contested by the opposing candidates, was quiet and orderly.

Following was the vote received by each candidate.

REMINGTON.

Glen Ellen, April 16th, 1896.

Sonoma and the Republican Convention.

The good old town of Sonoma did well by the Republican county convention. It had a hearty welcome for all the delegates and there was no charge for the hall in which the convention was held. The delegates came away rather glad that the convention was called to meet at Sonoma.—Santa Rosa Republican.

To Canvass the Returns.

The City Trustees will meet next Monday as a Canvassing Board to count the votes of the late municipal election and officially declare the results, after which City Clerk Breitenbach will issue certificates of election to the successful candidates.

THE BEAR FLAG

Meeting of the California Pioneer Society Next Tuesday.

Dr. J. F. Boyes of Santa Rosa, President of the California Pioneer Society, composed of the counties of Marin, Sonoma, Napa, Lake and Mendocino, has called a meeting of the members in this place for next Tuesday .

It is expected that all the counties will be represented and a large gathering of old pioneers is anticipated.

The object of the meeting is to take preliminary steps towards celebrating the raising of the Bear Flag in Sonoma on June 14th.

It is the intention of the Pioneers to take charge of the celebration and invite the Native Sons, Native Daughters and other civic societies to assist them in commemorating the semi-centennial anniversary of the brave, noble and patriotic raising of the Bear Flag on the Sonoma Plaza in 1846 by the small band of pioneer heroes, whose love of country ought to be impressed forever upon the mind of every American citizen.

The Sebastopol Times, in speaking of the forthcoming celebration, says: "The fiftieth anniversary of the raising of the Bear flag at Sonoma is to be celebrated in that town on the 14th of next June, and the event gives promise of being a grand affair.

"The pioneers who are alive to-day and can relate the story of how the Americans entered the mother town of Sonoma county on that glorious summer morning in '46 are few and far between, and although some of those who were present when the flag was raised still survive, it appears that the story of the incident would be remembered by them only with dim reality.

"James McChristian of this place is one of the very few eye-witnesses to the affair who can now tell of the event as it really happened. The day before the typical emblem was raised Mr. McChristian, who was at that time a youth of 18 years, crossed over the Napa hills into Sonoma valley with his father. This was on June 13, 1846, and shortly before daylight on the following morning a party of Americans under the command of Captain Merritt made an unexpected raid on the Spaniards who then occupied Sonoma, with the result that the Mexican representatives were easily subdued and captured. The victorious squadron then decided to raise some sort of an emblem to take the place of the Mexican flag, and they secured a common piece of white muslin, on which a brown bear standing on all fours was painted by William Todd, who was a member of the party. The red strip of cloth which was tucked on the bottom of the flag was torn from an old petticoat owned by Mrs. Nathan Combs. A blue star in the upper corner made the flag complete and it was then raised to the top of the staff, where it remained until the news reached Sonoma that the American flag had been raised at Monterey. Then it was lowered and the Stars and Stripes were hoisted in its place. Mr. McChristian witnessed the whole affair and says that the above statement is absolutely correct. The flag was made by the following gentlemen: Jack Ransford, John Kelly, James Kady and Peter Storm. Ransford died at Sonoma in '47 or '48, and it is not known whether Kelly is dead or alive. Kady was last heard of at San Diego and Storm died in Napa valley about six or eight years ago. A man named Ben Duel was also at Sonoma on the morning of the capture, and he is now residing in Lake county.

"The people of the Bear flag town should make an effort to gather together all of the surviving pioneers possible to the end that the coming celebration will be one of the grandest affairs in the annals of historic events."

Another Kenwood Suit.

The Savings Bank of Santa Rosa has begun suit against John H. Dickinson, a San Francisco lawyer, and Mrs. E. Yost and others of Kenwood, to recover $3,000 advanced on a promissory note at nine per cent some time in 1893.

The note is signed by John H. Dickinson and Mrs. Mary E. Yost, and the complaint alleges that the value received was good, hard coin of the realm. John Doe, Richard Doe, Mary Doe and Jane Doe are also named as defendants for the reason that certain parties, so the complaint alleges, now claim an interest in and to the said land offered as security. The names of these parties being at present unknown to the plaintiff, permission is asked to insert them as the information is gained.—Santa Rosa Press.

TRILBY.

Schellville, April 17, 1896.

Poor Indeed!

There are degrees and kinds of poverty, just as there are differences of opinion among those who compute and measure poverty and riches by different standards. Some men deem themselves poor because they are less rich than others, again there are comparatively poor people who are satisfied with a competence. There is a kind of poverty for which no amount of wealth can compensate, namely, a poverty of bodily stamina, evinced by nervousness and a derangement of the functions of digestion, bilious secretions and the bowels. To restore vigor upon a permanent basis there is one remedy that fully covers the requirements, "fills the bill," and this is Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. By restoring digestion, giving a healthful impulse to the action of the bowels and liver and tranquilizing the nerves, it fulfills the condition necessary to a resumption of strength by the system. It alto overcomes malaria and rheumatism.

SONOMA, SATURDAY, APRIL 18, 1896.

The Crescent of the Mohammedans.

The crescent symbol of the Mohammedans has nothing to do with their peculiar religious opinions and ceremonies. It was not originally a symbol of the followers of Mohammed at all, but was first used by the Byzantines. Thousands of coins have been found in all parts of Turkey which date back to the time when Constantinople was known as Byzantium, and on each of these the symbol of the crescent appears, proving conclusively that it was in use as an emblem among the people of that region long before Byzantium was overthrown and its name changed to Constantinople. The story of the origin of the crescent symbol is as follows: When Philip of Macedonia besieged Byzantium, he had planned to storm the city on a certain cloudy night, but before his arrangements were completed the moon shone out and discovered his approach to the besieged citizens, who accordingly marched out and repulsed his forces—something which would have been impossible in the darkness. After that event all Byzantine coins bore the symbol of the crescent moon, which was always alluded to as the "Savior of Byzantium."

After many years the hordes under Mohammed II captured Constantinople. At that time the crescent was used everywhere and upon everything. Suspecting that there must be magical power in the emblem the Mohammedans appropriated it, and have since used it as their only symbolic decoration.—St. Louis Republic.

Henry Clay.

A Lexington merchant, in conversation with the editor of The Gazette a few days ago, related this interesting reminiscence of Henry Clay: "I remember when a youth and an enthusiastic Clay Whig of coming here during the canvass of 1844 from my home in Hurrodsburg, with the Clay club of Mercer county, on whose banner was the motto, 'We Are Few, but True,' to unite in the celebration held that year in Lexington. The barbecue was given at the race track. There a number of distinguished orators addressed the multitude—among them Tom Corwin, Judge Ewing, probably James C. Jones of Tennessee. But after this half century, that which I now remember most distinctly and what most impressed me was this—that Mr. Clay did not go out to the grounds. He considered it beneath the dignity of a presidential candidate to electioneer. How well I remember seeing him, as the procession in which I walked passed his office (then with his son, James B. Clay, on Short street, near the engine house), standing in the doorway with his head uncovered, and with the rare grace which few men possessed, bowing to the passing multitude that was wild with huzzas, banners and music."—Lexington Gazette.

Coffee.

Many persons who are unable to drink coffee that has been boiled or made by putting the coffee directly in boiling water and cooking at or above the boiling point for a certain number of minutes are able to drink without any disagreeable consequences either present or future coffee made by percolation—that is, by inclosing the coffee in a bag of some kind or in a wire gauze strainer and pouring the boiling water upon it. This method of coffee making should always be used in households where the members breakfast at different hours, and where only one pot of coffee is made. In France, where chicory is often added to the coffee, percolated or "drip" coffee that is quite strong is often made and tightly bottled or sealed so that its aroma cannot escape and kept in a cool place for several days. As it is wanted it is heated very hot and served with hot milk, and, if you want it absolutely perfect, heat your cup also. Percolated coffee is considered more economical than that boiled.—New York Post.

Illustrates a Phase of Clericalism.

One of the most famous of mediæval utterances is a curious mixture of diabolical wit and savage fanaticism. It is told of the Papal Legate Milo, at the sack of Beziers, in the "crusade" against the Albigeois. History, or tradition, says that when it was asked how it would be possible to distinguish the heretics in the town from the Catholics the legate cried out: "Kill them all! God will know his own." So the story goes. But did the legate ever say it? Or was it said by Arnold, the Cistercian abbot? Did anybody say it? The only thing absolutely certain is that, expressing, as it did, in the pithiest style, the spirit of mediæval fanaticism in religion, it might very well have been uttered by somebody.—London News.

Saw Him Fed.

Contrary to general belief, Munchausen is not dead, or he must live in the persons of some of the continental tourists you meet around the Metropole and the Victoria. They repeat this conversation of one of those enterprising but prevaricating end of the century explorers:

"I visited Russia, Germany, Austria, Italy"—

"Indeed! So you saw Venice?"

"Well, I rather guess I did."

"Did you see the lion of St. Mark?"

"Of course I did. Why, I saw him fed."—Washington Post.

A Good Name For It.

"My bicycle has been injured in the windpipe," said Gildersleeve.

"What on earth is a bicycle's windpipe?" asked Tillinghast.

"The very part that is on earth, the pneumatic tube."—Detroit Free Press.

A FAIR DEBUTANTE.

Miss Stone One of This Season's Additions to Washington Beauties.

One of the fairest debutantes in Washington society is Miss Elizabeth Moorhead Stone, the youngest daughter of Congressman Charles W. Stone of Pennsylvania. Miss Stone was recently introduced into society at a pleasant tea given at her mother's house in the capital. She is a charming girl, rather tall and very pretty. Her eyes and hair are dark. Her manners are attractive and marked by that simplicity which is most charming in a young girl. Miss Elizabeth has finished her education at the Woman's college in Baltimore, and has taken from that institution a mind stored with modern knowledge and a fine equipment in the way of accomplishments. She is the fortunate possessor of a voice of singular sweetness that is well trained in vocal music and elocution. The latter is her favorite study, and her good talent is a source of much enjoyment to her young friends. Miss Stone is one of the very few young ladies who can attempt Watteau effects. She wears miniatures, aigrets, delicate lace and forgetmenot silks. She combines with that sweet simplicity and gentleness of manner spoken of above splendid animal spirits and a fun loving disposition that will make her one of the most popular young women in Washington.—Chicago Times-Herald.

Where Women Are Supreme.

In Decatur, Mich., the population of which is 1,500, the president of the village council is Mrs. Alma Sage, and all of the town offices, except that of official dog catcher, are filled by women. Mrs. Dr. Kinney is one of the leading physicians. Mrs. Ada Gregg is a preacher, and her church—the Advent—is taken care of by a janitress, Mrs. Barnett. The restaurant of the town is conducted by Mrs. Crane and Miss Haines. The biggest store in the place is owned and kept by Mrs. Mary School. Mrs. Nicholson is the postmistress. Miss Clara Hotaling is a shoemaker, and a good one. May Percival is a furniture maker. Miss Anna Pardnett makes harness. Mrs. Carpenter is a florist. Mrs. Child is a carriage painter.

There are several women painters, weavers and brokers. The women have a secret society run on the endowment plan. There is also a woman literary club. The women control the saloons, and the only things to drink are soda and pop. In a village near by there is a woman undertaker, who can attend to all of the details of a funeral, even to driving the hearse.—Utica Observer.

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria.
When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria.
When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria.
When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

Have to get up about three times during night, and am very much better in every respect. Will continue to take your Vegetable Sarsaparilla, for believe it will entirely cure me.
